1970-71 at Tuscola —
It was a year of . . .

Climbing trees . . .

Blowing bubbles . . .

Playing around . . .

Teacher of the Year — 1971

Mr. Bob Henry

Great men are the strong men; those in whom nature has succeeded . . . A man may spend his working hours in making a living, but he should spend his leisure hours in making himself . . . Yet, great is not an adjective . . .

COMPETITION . . . good for the soul .

Smiling quietly? . . .

Joint support . . .

Spirit and PRIDE . . .

In Recognition of . . .

A. L. Freeland

. . . for his generous contributions and deep concern for Tuscola.

Wondering . . .

Hoping . . .

and a sure thing . . .

Slow down, you move too fast . . .

And then there was snow!

AND . . .

Such a big, big place . . .

Introducing the Morehead Nominee and the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Winner.

AMERICA?

Oh, beautiful for spacious skies.

For amber waves of grain,

For purple mountains majesty,

Above the fruited plains,

America! America!

God shed his grace on thee,

And crown thy good with brotherhood,

From sea to shining sea???

Miss Debra Lenoir

To fill a gap —
Insert the thing that caused it.
Block it up
With other and 'twill
yawn
The more;
You cannot solder an abyss
With air.

— Emily Dickinson

Miss Janet McCracken

There is a place where love begins and a place where love ends.

...

There is a pair of shoes love wears and the coming is a mystery.

...

There are explanations of love in all languages and not one found wiser than this:

...

There is a place where love begins and a place where love ends — and love asks nothing.

— Carl Sandburg

Miss Sharon Brooks

Cheerfulness and content are great beautifiers and are famous preservers of youthful looks.

Charles Dickens

Miss Anita McCrary

There is no beautifier of complexion, or form, or behavior, like the wish to scatter joy and not pain around us.

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Miss Cathy Davis

Happiness is as a butterfly, which when pursued, is always beyond our grasp, but which, if you will sit down quietly, may alight upon you.

Hawthorne

Miss Wendy Daniels

Dear Heavenly Father, far above
Always protect the one I love.

To me he's all I need to live
And all the love I need he gives.

...
And as long as I live on this earth today,
Let him be around to show me the way.

...
And even when the night grows
nigh
I close my eyes with one last sigh

...
Wishing I could be with him,
And in my dreams I see him dim.

Miss Debbie Crawford

Hope is like the sun, which, as we journey toward it, casts the shadow of our burden behind us.

R. Smiles

Miss Jane Medford

The Heart is the capital of the mind,
The Mind is a single state.
The Heart and the Mind together make
A single continent.

One — is the population —
Numerous enough.
This ecstatic nation
Seek — it is yourself.

— Emily Dickinson

Miss Cozette Overton

They came to tell your faults to me,
They named them over one by one;
I laughed aloud when they were done,
I knew them all so well before —
Oh, they were blind, too blind to see
Your faults had made me love you more.

Miss Anita McCrary

Miss Cathy Davis

Oh! Once I had a little dog, the color it was brown.
I taught him for to whistle,
to sing, and dance and run.
His legs, they were fourteen yards long
His ears so very wide —
And around the world in half a day
Upon him I would ride.

Miss Wendy Daniel

The little things
Are most worth-while
A quiet word,
A look, a smile,
A listening ear
That's quick to share
Another's thoughts,
Another's care . . .
Though sometimes they may seem Quite small,
These little things
Mean most of all.

—Margaret Lindsey

Miss Debbie Crawford

If I can stop one heart from breaking
I shall not live in vain;
If I can ease one life the aching,
Or cool one pain,
Or help one fainting
robin
Unto his nest again,
I shall not live in vain.

—Emily Dickinson

Miss Kitty Barker

Laugh and the world
laughs with you;
Weep, and you weep alone,
For the sad old earth
must borrow its mirth,
But has trouble enough
of its own.
Sing, and the hills will answer,
Sigh, it is lost on the air,
The echoes bound to a joyful sound,
But shrink from voicing care.

—Ella Wilcox

Miss Lynn Tilley

It is not a word spoken,
Few words are said;
Nor even a look of the eyes
Nor a bend of the head,
But only a hush of the heart
That has too much to keep,
Only memories waking that sleep so light a sleep.

—Sara Teasdale

Miss Marilynnda Nease

Build a little fence of trust
Around today;
Fill each space with loving work
And therein stay;
Look not through the sheltering bars
Upon tomorrow,
God will help thee
bear what comes
Of joy or sorrow.

—Mary Butts

Miss Ann Hines

Like the star,
That shines afar,
Without haste
And without rest,
Let each man wheel with steady sway
Round the task that rules
the day,
And do his best.

—Goethe

Miss Nancy Dooly

Gather the stars if you wish it so.
Gather the songs and keep them.
Gather the faces of women.
Gather for keeping years and years.
And then . . .
Loosen your hands, let go and say good-by.

J. C. doing his thing!

Don't touch me unless you mean it!

Quick! tie his shoelaces together!!

A solemn moment

But, Coach, I used Scope this morning!

Would you believe my mother uses Tide XK?!?

Golden boys in a glittering game!

Did you see that?!?!

before the game . . .

It melts in your hands, not in your mouth!

Yes, 1970-'71 was a great year!

But, what made it great?

People did and that's YOU!!

THE EDITORS' LAST WORDS

We the co-editors of the 1970-'71 Yearbook, leave to the student body this book as a symbolic record of the activities of you, the students of Tuscola. We hope that this book brings together all of your backgrounds, interests, hopes, desires, and adventures of the past year. Unfortunately, we regret that it was not possible for us to include all happenings and events that occurred, but we do hope that we have revealed a cross-section of life at Tuscola. In doing this, we hope that we did not offend or leave out anyone or anything, and if we did so, we would now like to apologize to those whom it may concern.

Composing a yearbook is not an easy thing to do. It requires many long hours of self-sacrifice and hard work. It is at this time that we would like to express our gratitude to all who contributed to this yearbook, whether they be our photographers, our staff, our wonderful sponsors; consisting of Miss Bessie Burch, Mr. Jake Brown, Mr. Harris Pryor, Mr. Dale Ratcliffe, and Mr. Wally Dunham, or the Administration, who generously gave their time and patience. We would like to give a special thanks to our business manager, Darlene Cagle, whose job was only the annual's financial concern, but who gave many extra hours of time to help with the completion of this annual. To say the least, without her, we couldn't have made it.

To some, the class of 1971, this annual holds all the memories of a great year. Times to talk about, think about, laugh about, and yes, even cry about. Many will look back, thinking of Tuscola, and remember the great pride we all shared there.

The spirit bonfire glows, ebbs, then dies as the class of '71 leaves for colleges, jobs, and the future. They leave behind them a legacy. This fire of spirit still contains the spark and waits only to be rekindled by the class of '72. This book records that fire — the spirit of the class of '71 and we are glad that we are a part of it.

Co-Editors,

Cozette Overton ☺
